

HAMISH McRAE

Hamish McRae is one of Europe's foremost writers and speakers on future trends in economics, business and society.

He is the chief economic commentator for the Independent and a columnist in the Evening Standard and Daily Mail. He is the author of the acclaimed work on the future; The World in 2020: Power, Culture and Prosperity, and of What Works - Success in Stressful Times.

Hamish speaks all over the world sharing his insights into the current economic situation, and how these events are likely to affect business and governments. He also explores how advances in technology and demographic changes will influence our lives

Awards include the David Watt Prize for economic and political journalism in 2005 and Business and Finance Journalist of the Year in 2006.

He has been a visiting professor at UMIST and Lancaster University, an adjunct professor at Trinity College Dublin, and a member of the governing councils of Royal Economic Society and the National Institute for Economic and Social Research. He is an Orwell Fellow and a Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences.

Speaking topics include:

- The World in 2020
- The Global Economy
- The Rise of the Asian Economies
- Globalisation
- Technology
- Demography
- Energy Markets and Resources